REAL INFLATION;
BIGGER DEFICIT*Says Treasury Advised
For 1,306 Tons of Paper

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—Representative Taber (R-N.Y.), denouncing President Roosevelt's recovery program, told the House today that treasury purchases of paper for printing currency indicate the administration "is preparing to issue the entire $3,000,000,000 of greenbacks authorized by the vicious Thomas inflation amendment."

"This will wipe out the entire cushion of $4,400,000,000 of federal reserve notes in circulation," Taber said, "and unquestionably will result in inflation."

(The treasury advertised recently for 1,306 tons of paper for printing currency during the fiscal year beginning July 1.)

At the same time, Taber predicted a federal deficit of $8,000,000,000 during the coming fiscal year, estimating the total cost of government would be $12,500,000,000.

Asserting "pump-priming" had proved a failure during the last five years, Taber declared some Democrats may realize too late that instead of priming the pump, "the chief executive proposes to pump the primaries."

Suggest 6-Point Program
Instead of the president's proposals, Taber suggested a six-point program including:

1. Amendment of the Wagner labor relations act to "promote harmony instead of discord between employe groups and employers."
2. Passage of the Senate-approved tax bill.
3. Repeal of "the dangerous 'greenback' law, which provides for inflation."
4. An attempt to recover the export market instead of trying to curtail production.
5. Return relief to localities, require them to contribute at least 25 per cent of the cost and "get rid" of WPA, PWA, housing authority, farm security administration "and all of the other rackets."
6. Appropriate only what is needed "without fangles."

AWAIT STORY OF
WITNESS STAND

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—A tense courtroom waited today to hear a 16-year-old high school boy tell how and why he killed his crippled mother with a nine-inch bread knife.

The boy, Theodore Danielson, Jr., was accused of slaying his mother March 3 when she berated him for playing hockey for school.

He twitched nervously and sat with bowed head yesterday as Prosecutor Morris G. Meyers presented the state's case.

The youth waived a jury trial, leaving the decision to Chief Justice Cornelius J. Harrington of the Criminal court. His attorneys said they did not deny the boy was the slayer of Mrs. Eleanor Danielson, 47, although he pleaded innocent to a murder charge.

Giving the state's version of the slaying, Prosecutor Meyers said the mother became enraged when her son confessed his truancy, that she shook him violently and scratched his face.

The youth, he related, seized the knife from the kitchen table, plunged it into her breast and neck, washed the weapon in the sink and then again stabbed his mother. She was found with the knife imbedded in her throat.

The 14 witnesses called by the state told their stories quickly.

Theodore's playmates and neighbors were defense witnesses. They pictured him as a pleasant, normal boy. Max Behm, a neighbor of the Danielsons for 13 years, said the youth's mother had been subject to "fits of anger, tantrums."

Students Strike
To Raise Coach's
Salary At Mendon

Mendon, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Demanding a salary raise for the athletic coach and renewal of two teachers' contracts, 97 students of the Mendon township high school went on strike and picketed the school today.

George Shupe, president of the school board, agreed to meet representatives of the strikers later in the day. The teachers whose dismissal at the end of the term was announced by the board last night were Miss Elda Murphy, home economics instructor, and Gene Fuhr, who taught English and speech. Gilbert Love is the coach for whom the students sought a higher salary.

Charles Bilderback, school superintendent, said only 30 of the school's 146 students were in classes, that 97 had struck and the rest were absent because of a measles epidemic.

Mendon is in Adams county, 16 miles northeast of Quincy.

Is Hopeful

Joliet, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Tony Ostir was hopeful today he eventually would get back all of his automobile.

The machine was stolen on Tuesday. Yesterday it was recovered, deserted and minus wheels, tires and other gadgets. This morning Ostir found the wheels, tires and inner tubes, which had been tossed over a fence and into his back yard. Still missing were a generator and a radiator cap.

COOGAN SAVES PARENTS FROM BEING EVICTED

Los Angeles, April 21.—(AP)—Jackie Coogan saved his mother and stepfather today from legal ouster from the luxurious mansion his screen fortune built.

"The Kid," came to the rescue when he learned that a temporary receiver, appointed after he filed a $4,000,000 accounting suit against Arthur L. and Lillian Coogan Bernstein, was empowered to seize the home, three automobiles and personal effects used by the couple.

Hurrying to his attorneys' office late yesterday, 23-year-old Coogan obtained a stipulation whereby his mother and stepfather could remain in possession of the property, pending trial of his suit.

A hearing on the Bernsteins' petition to dismiss the temporary receivership is set for tomorrow. Also to be heard is a request by Jackie's mother for a chance to amend the deposition she gave Monday in which she said her actor son had been a "bad boy" and denied she and his deceased father had ever promised to give him any of his movie earnings.

"My memory has been refreshed since I gave the deposition," Mrs. Bernstein asserted.

A factor in refreshing Mrs. Bernstein's recollection, Jackie's attorneys said, was the discovery of records of proceedings in 1922 to have her appointed his guardian and set aside half of his earnings for him.

This guardianship was dismissed in 1923 when Coogan's parents informed the court they anticipated the creation of a trust for the investment and preservation of the child star's estate.

Shanahan Suit Is Further Delayed

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—Opening of the second trial of the suit involving the estimated $850,000 estate of David E. Shanahan, former state legislator, was delayed further in circuit court today.

Three circuit court judges were appointed to select a judge to hear the second trial after attorneys for Mrs. Helen Troesch Shanahan, the widow, announced they were not prepared to begin trial Monday, the date suggested by Judge John J. Prystalski.

Judges Joseph Burke, Benjamin P. Epstein and John R. Caverly are to select the judge to hear the second trial. The first trial resulted in a deadlock last November when the jury failed to decide the validity of a will drawn on Oct. 5, 1936, favoring the widow, Mrs. Shanahan, for years secretary to the former assemblyman, was named sole heir. She married Mary Flynn, who seek to set aside the death-bed will.

Attorneys for the Flynn sisters said today they were prepared to start trial immediately.

Galax, Va., April 21.—(AP)—One, two, three.

Just like that the Dollinger children lost their appendices.

First was Ed Dollinger, 8, on March 14, then Billy, 7, April 9, and finally unsuspecting Jessie, 14, who came to the hospital with her dad to take Billy home last night—and went to the operating room instead.

Family of N. Y. Park Ave. Woman
Shields Her From Negro Spouse

New York, April 21.—(AP)—The Park Avenue family of the former Sylvia Lazarus kept her secluded today as her Negro husband of less than two weeks, William Sam Hart Stewart, 32, sought to have her returned to him.

The husband, a Harlem entertainer and animal trainer, followed his wife by private plane from Chicago after swearing out kidnap warrants against three Chicago policemen and five "John Does" from New York who, he charged, took her from his apartment forcibly.

The young woman, apparently ill, arrived late yesterday by train accompanied by her brother, Joseph A. Lazarus, who said she would be taken to a sanitarium. She was

FORD SAYS FARM IS SOLUTION FOR
TODAY'S PROBLEM*Urges a Back-to-the Soil Movement to Save the Country

Sudbury, Mass., April 21.—(AP)—Henry Ford of Detroit today revealed plans for a discussion of "business conditions" with President Roosevelt, but asserted he would enter this conference with no axe to grind.

Standing in the warm sunshine on the extensive Wayside Inn estate, which he has rehabilitated as an early American hotel property, the multi-millionaire automobile maker said he did not intend to give any "advice." At the same time, however, he left no doubt of his own views.

His solution of present-day problems, Ford said in rapid-fire fashion, would be an expansion of the "back to the farm" movement.

"If people do not raise their own food," he asserted, "they will have to have a dictator to tell them to do it."

"Farm Is the Thing"
He declared that in his opinion, the "farm is the thing that will save the country," and added:

"In no other way can we raise the money. The farms today must provide for industry."

"As an example I am going to cultivate every foot of the whole acreage here right away."

Pausing only to brush away tiny black flies that buzzed around him as he stood near an old, but now-restored grist mill on the estate, Ford added that his "panacea" for everything was "work."

"This entire land is just yearning for young men to go to work in it. That's all a young fellow needs today, the habit of work. Once he gets the habit, he'll find his own work."

Kills Self After Discovery Of Bank
Shortage Of $2300

Caroline, Wis., Apr. 21.—(AP)—H. A. Herzfeldt, who disappeared yesterday after state examiners reported a $2,300 shortage at the Caroline State bank of which he was cashier, was found shot to death today.

Coroner Leonard A. Hartwig called the death a suicide.

Sheriff's officers, aided by bloodhounds, found the body in the woods two and a half miles south of Caroline. Herzfeldt had been shot in the head.

Chairman H. F. Bach of the state banking commission said at Madison he was told by examiners that the shortly before Herzfeldt left the bank yesterday he took about $10,000 in currency from the bank's vault.

Poultry Dealer Is Found Fatally Shot

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—His pockets turned inside out, Jerome Lazar, 38, was found shot fatally in the head at the foot of the basement stairs of his poultry market today.

Police found no weapon but picked up a cartridge shell at the top of the stairs. The basement and the floor near the stairs bore signs of a struggle, officers said. The shop cash register was not disturbed.

Label Lazar, a brother, found the victim, carried him to his automobile and removed him to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead.

Ex-Senator Jailed

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—Former State Senator William P. Gilmeister, 47, convicted of obtaining money under false pretenses, today was sentenced to 60 days in jail and fined $200 by Judge Robert J. Dunne in Criminal court.

Gilmeister was convicted of fraudulently using Mayor Edward J. Kelly's name to obtain money from former policemen on promise of reinstatement. Judge Dunne overruled a motion for probation.

By Telephone

Moline, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—Harvey Clark substituted a telephone conversation for a court appearance and everyone concerned was satisfied.

Instead of returning to Beloit, Wis., for trial on a charge of violating traffic laws, Clark pleaded guilty by telephone, heard himself fined $100 and then deposited that amount with the Moline police chief.

JEWS EXPELLED FROM AUSTRIA ARE HOMELESS

Praha, Czechoslovakia, April 21.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Kamil Krofta had on his hands today the future of some two dozen homeless Jews, expelled from Austria, denied admittance to Czechoslovakia and Hungary and temporarily sheltered on a French tugboat on the Danube.

Krofta promised to investigate the case following an appeal by the Zionist deputy Angelo Goldstein and the socialist Ignaz Schultz.

It was reported 51 Jews from the Austrian province of Burgenland were loaded into a launch by storm troopers and set ashore on the Czechoslovak side of the Danube on April 15.

Czech authorities, to whom the exodus of Jews has become a problem since the Nazi annexation of Austria, housed them temporarily and sent them across the Hungarian frontier.

Some who wandered back into Austria from Hungary were reported loaded into buses, presumably for expulsion at some other point.

Others were picked up by the tugboat at Rajka, Hungary. Jews sent food and clothing aboard.

One hundred other Jews were reported temporarily safe on the estate of Prince Elemer Lonyay.

At the Burgenland capital, Eisenstadt, the ghetto of 2,000 Jews was reported almost deserted. At Graz, Styria, 70 per cent of the Jewish stores were said to have been hurriedly sold to Aryans because of strict anti-Semitic boycotts.

LEAGUE FACED BY DIFFICULT SITUATIONS

Geneva, April 21.—(AP)—Troublesome, delicate questions piled up today for the League of Nations council, scheduled to open an important session May 9.

Halle Selassie, deposed and exiled Emperor of Ethiopia, notified Joseph A. C. Avenol, the league's secretary-general, he would be represented at the session to fight against recognition of Italy's conquest of his country.

Switzerland, seeking further guarantees of her neutrality and freedom from League obligations, drafted a demand that the council place the question of her "integral neutrality" on the agenda.

Embarrassment was promised the council by the demand of the Barcelona government of Spain that the session take up the question of foreign intervention in the Spanish civil war.

These developments meant opposition to the course Britain is following in keeping her bargain with Italy, signed at Rome last Saturday.

Seeking to open the way for recognition of the Ethiopian conquest by League members—pledged against it two and a half years ago—Britain has asked that the May 9 session reconsider Italy's position in Ethiopia. France is expected to follow Britain's lead.

Switzerland for the moment is asking only that the council "examine" the question of her neutrality, meaning freedom from any action the league might take against aggressor nations or breakers of the covenant.

Loveland Memorial Community House Site Purchased by the Trustees*Structure to be Constructed on West
Second Street

The trustees of the Loveland Memorial community house fund, F. X. Newcomer, H. E. Senneff and J. U. Weyant today announced the purchase of a site for the building and Circuit Judge Leon A. Zick this morning approved their action.

The site extends west from Madison avenue, along the north side of Second street to Monroe avenue and the entire 300 foot length on the north side of Second street is made available with a depth on Monroe avenue of 175 feet and on Madison avenue of 150 feet, making a total of 48,750 square feet. In the petition filed in the circuit court this afternoon, the purchase price was given as $25,600.

Five houses will necessarily have to be razed or moved. John Leonard Hamilton of Chicago and Winnetka, the architect who has been retained by the trustees, was notified today to proceed with plans and specifications for the building. The trustees stated that it was their intention to start work on the construction of the building this summer.

Several Sites Considered

The site is one of several considered for weeks by the trustees before securing options on properties and selecting the location. Situated just outside the business district on streets which are paved on the three sides, the location is an ideal one. None of the three streets is a main travelled highway.

The Loveland estate owns properties on the south side of Second street, which may be converted for use as parkways or for the parking of automobiles. This solves one problem which has confronted the trustees in their selection of a site—to secure a location where parking facilities would be available. Sufficient property on the south side of Second street is controlled by the Loveland estate to provide such space with entrances from Monroe or Madison avenue or from Second street. To provide such space, however will require the removal of residence properties.

Announcement by the trustees of the purchase of the site for the building of the community house, will be received with a great deal of satisfaction by the citizens of Dixon. The late George C. Loveland bequeathed a sum amounting to a half million dollars to be used in the construction of such a building on the south side of Rock river. Added to this sum, is an amount in excess of $40,000 received from the estate of Mrs. Loveland.

Action Praised

Charles E. Miller, president of the Chamber of Commerce, when informed of the action of the trustees, expressed himself as being highly pleased. He said:

"Messrs. Newcomer, Senneff and Weyant are deserving of the thanks of every citizen of Dixon for the care and speed in which they have completed the first step toward the realization of the purposes of Mr. and Mrs. Loveland and the hopes of the people of the city. Their selection of site will doubtless meet the commendation of all who have given any consideration to the matter, and I, for one, must express my admiration for the manner in which they have conducted their action."

"From the standpoint of accessibility, a more central location for the Community House could not have been obtained. If sufficient parking facilities have been included in the committee's plans, it should prove a satisfactory site for a building of this character." Edward Vaile, member of the park board.

Mayor William V. Slothover had the following comment to make on the selection of a site:

"The trustees of the Loveland estate, Messrs. F. X. Newcomer, J. U. Weyant and Homer Senneff, are deserving of the highest commendation of the trust placed upon them. While some of us may be somewhat impatient that our community building is not yet a reality, we must realize that the conversion of a large estate into cash or its equivalent, requires considerable time and effort. The estate is being managed with a minimum of expense and is growing considerably each month from revenues from its investments. I am sure that it is with much satisfaction to them and a great pleasure to our citizens, that the trustees announce today the purchase of a site for the city's Community building."

"This site should meet with the hearty approval of all our citizens, it being situated practically in the center of population of the city, on improved streets and very close to the business district. It was selected by the trustees after careful investigation of several locations, as to desirability and cost, it being

Postage

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—Postoffice officials said today they would ask Horace Russell, resigned general counsel for the Home Owners Loan corporation, to pay approximately $280 in postage charges for letters he sent out under the franking privilege, praising the legal abilities of O. B. Taylor, a former HOLC attorney.

Russell resigned his government post Tuesday after Rep. Church (R-Ill.) asserted on the floor of the House that the HOLC attorney had franked "more than a million" letters praising Taylor.

FIRE DESTROYS
HUGE ELEVATOR
AT $500,000 LOSS

Minneapolis, April 21.—(AP)—A spectacular fire starting early today destroyed the 55-year-old Pillsbury elevator with loss estimated at between $350,000 and $500,000. Arthur Spottswood, chief of the fire prevention bureau, estimated the loss.

Approximately half a million bushels of wheat, barley and rye were destroyed. The structure was 13 stories high and was owned by the Andrews Grain Company.

At the height of the fire, residents in the vicinity were warned to be ready to evacuate, but rain-dampened roofs and grasses resisted the spread of flames. Burning grain and other debris was scattered for several blocks.

The fire still burned in some sections at noon, but was under control. Firemen aided attempts to salvage grain that poured from the building, burying nearby railroad tracks.

Shortly after firemen began to fight the flames, several were forced to slide down drain pipes to avoid being trapped on an upper floor.

Night Watchman George Frost, who discovered the fire, said it might have started from overheated machinery.

Oberlin Students Appreciate Peace

Oberlin, O., April 21.—(AP)—National guardsmen clumped around the campus of peace-loving Oberlin college today and war ration were served in student dining halls—as a demonstration for peace.

The college's 1,800 students were mobilized for war. Men were drafted, the laboratory workers reporting for "science duty," and co-eds were organized into the "Women's Blue Cross."

The "war games" will end at noon tomorrow when Dr. Kenneth Brown, president of Hiram (Ohio) college, gives a peace address on "The Meanings of the Last 24 Hours."

Leaders of student organizations decided on the war demonstration because, they said, peace talks in other years failed to arouse active student response.

A SUGGESTION

Denver, April 21.—(AP)—G. W. Bowman, 84-year-old Pallade, Colo., bank president, suggested in a letter to Gov. Teller Ammons that army bombing planes be enlisted to attack tornadoes.

A bomb exploded near the base of a storm funnel would dissipate its energy, he said.

Ammons said the plan "seems to have great possibilities."

FARM PURGE STOPPED

Moscow, April 20.—(AP)—The Soviet purge of collective farmers was ordered stopped today. The order declared much harm had been done by mass expulsions of peasants from farms for trivial reasons on the pretext of purging the farms of hostile elements.

Four, Five, Six

Palestine, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—"Uncle" James Richards, 93, today had cut six teeth of his third set, and friends were offering him teething rings. The appearance of so many teeth in a third set apparently had disproved claims that these sets were blocked teeth of the second set.

Over 800 Dead, Missing, 50,000
Homeless in Turkish Earthquake

Ankara, Turkey, April 21.—(AP)—The Anatolia earthquake toll of dead and missing soared to at least 800 today after a night of continuing shocks which 50,000 homeless spent in mad terror.

Terrific underground rumblings were accompanied by intermittent earthquakes over a wide area of western Asia bordering the Aegean Sea, and especially about Kirshehr, Yozgad and Tchorum.

Panic-stricken refugees fled from crevices full of boiling water. Eighteen villages were destroyed. Twenty-two others were damaged badly.

Whole families were buried under mountainous debris. Most of the victims were women and children.

Salvage and relief squads were organized throughout the stricken country and the national assembly voted emergency funds.

Head of foreign diplomatic missions presented condolences to the government.

The quakes first were felt about 1 p. m. Tuesday and lasted until midnight. They were renewed last night.

The ruins were in some of the most productive agricultural districts. Following the first shocks many residents rushed into the countryside.

The Red Crescent, a relief organization similar to the Red Cross, mobilized workers and doctors to give aid.

FORD WILL LUNCH WITH ROOSEVELT
NEXT WEDNESDAY*Edsel Ford and W. J.
Cameron Also Asked To Conference

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—The White House announced today President Roosevelt had invited Henry Ford to an informal luncheon conference with him next Wednesday.

Stephen Early, a presidential secretary, said the invitation was sent to the automobile manufacturer by telegraph last night to Boston where Ford is visiting.

The telegram also said if the elder Ford desired he might bring along his son, Edsel Ford, president of the Ford Motor Company and W. J. Cameron, public relations advisor.

It was expected the three would talk over business conditions with the President, although no subject was mentioned in the invitation.

Ford, disclosing at Sudbury, Mass., that he would accept the invitation, said he would go to the White House as a man who had no favors to ask. The automobile manufacturer said he wanted to shake hands with the President "as an old friend" and have a chat.

"I shall not give him any advice," Ford added.

While the text of the White House telegram was not given out, Early said it noted that Ford would be in Washington next week and said the President would be delighted to have him lunch informally with him.

First Conference With F. D. R.

It will be Henry Ford's first visit to the White House since President Roosevelt took office. He has differed with many New Deal measures and principles, especially the industrial recovery act and the Wagner Labor Relations law. He refused to sign NRA's Blue Eagle declaration of compliance.

A high administration official said earlier that President Roosevelt's efforts to promote federally-financed expansion in the utilities industry were aimed at eventual stimulation of a huge utilities building program.

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation announced yesterday it was ready to meet the financial needs of all comers in an attempt to end the industry's construction slump.

White House advisers have estimated that possibly a $1,000,000,000 utilities building program could be undertaken immediately with a quick and far-reaching effect in other industries such as steel, cement, brick and lumber.

Impetus to the campaign to enlist utilities in the recovery movement came from a conference yesterday between the President, Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the RFC, and William O. Douglas and John W. Hanes of the securities commission.

Jones said afterward the utilities had complained they were unable to get money for expansion and that now the RFC, with available funds of $1,500,000,000, was ready to supply that money, either through loans or through purchase of bonds.

Other phases of the recovery program went forward swiftly. The house appropriations committee called Aubrey Williams, deputy WPA administrator, to testify on the supervision of work relief.

Roosevelt Prepares Message
Roosevelt prepared to send Congress by tomorrow at the latest a message recommending reciprocal state-federal taxation of future issues of government securities and the salaries of all public officials.

New low-rent housing and slum clearance projects totaling $40,728,000 received presidential approval.

Meanwhile James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, and James Roosevelt, the President's son and secretary, advocated the administration's recovery program in speeches in Garden City, N. Y., and Middletown, Ohio, respectively.

Farley told the Nassau County Democratic club:

"If the monies spoken for in the President's recent recommendations to congress put us as far ahead of where we are today as the sums expended in the past put us above where we were six years ago," he said, "it will be best investment this nation ever made."

CAROL, CODREANU DUEL FOR POWER OVER RUMANIA

Pro-Nazi Guardsman Challenges King's Dic- tatorship

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Writer
New York, April 21.—Wholesale arrests in Rumania of pro-Nazi Iron Guardsmen, charged with plotting against the government, represent just another phase of the remarkable duel for power between the country's two most colorful personalities—King Carol himself and the fiery chief of the outlawed Iron Guard, Corneliu Codreanu.

The youthful commoner—always daring and often rash—has challenged his monarch's dictatorship. Curiously enough, it was Codreanu—the "Hitler of Rumania"—who was mainly responsible for Carol's assumption of absolute power at the end of December.

But the story really starts with Codreanu and not with his majesty. The 38-year-old guardsman has been leading an anti-semitic and anti-communistic campaign since his school days.

Always an exponent of direct action, he has kept himself constantly in the public eye. There is not a fireside in the land that doesn't know his name. Some conjure with it; others speak it with a curse.

Codreanu is the picture-book type of adventurous leader. He is well built and handsome. His wavy, rumpled hair is tossed straight back from a high forehead.

Has Expressive Eyes

Expressive wide-spaced eyes look out from under heavy brows that all but meet. His mouth is generous but firm. And, of course, there must be the square, jutting jaw of the fighter.

Codreanu has a widespread reputation of being a very earnest person, irrespective of whether his policies and methods may be wrong. Obviously it is hard to defend plotting against the government if there has been such subversive action. His following is considerable, though nobody knows the total.

He has made himself felt as a personality and leader since his youth, many of his disciples having been university students. His activities at the outset were largely anti-semitic.

One of his earliest sensations was in 1924 when he was only 24 years old. He shot and killed the police prefect of Jassy for using great severity in suppressing anti-Jewish student riots. The young chieftain was acquitted, and this increased his following.

In 1934 Codreanu stood trial a second time in connection with assassination—that of Premier Ion Duca. He and 45 of his followers were acquitted, although three youths who were convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment were said to belong to the Iron Guard.

Codreanu's daring exceeded all bounds in November of 1936, when he served notice on King Carol that if the policies of the government involved Rumania in war on the side of communism or international Jewry, then the ruler and his cabinet would pay.

"Heads Shall Roll" List

The police in 1933 declared they had discovered a "heads shall roll" list which they attributed to the Iron Guard. This list was said to contain the names of prominent Socialists and Jews.

Codreanu always has been a keen admirer of Fuehrer Hitler, and spent some time in Germany studying Nazism at first hand. The Iron Guard also sports the Nazi swastika.

Over a long period the people of Rumania had been growing uneasy under the pressure of hard times, which many attributed to inefficiency of government. This discontent boiled up in a most disconcerting fashion in the general election of last December.

Codreanu's Pro-German All-For Fatherland party (successor to the outlawed Iron Guard) won third place in the Chamber of Deputies with 62 seats. Apparently even the Nazi leader himself wasn't prepared for such strong support. He couldn't take advantage of it.

King Carol, however, was quick to interpret the writing on the wall. He realized that the country was heading towards dictatorship—and he took over the job himself, being tired of the failures of past governments.

Carol has staked his dynasty on this dictatorship. He not only has the reputation of being a serious, hard-working ruler, but he has demonstrated

During a land boom two real estate agents were trying to make their fortunes peddling good, bad and indifferent lots. The two were great rivals and often got into unprofitable price-slashing, each trying to outdo the other. In one of these rivalry wars Mr. A placed a price on one small lot and Mr. B started with a price double that of Mr. A's. Then, seeing the prospective customer lose interest, Mr. A cut his price 20 per cent. This move was followed by a 30 per cent slash by Mr. B. "Well," said the prospective customer, "at those prices I'll take them both." So, the deal was made the customer paid $148 for the two lots.

What did he pay for each and what were the first prices of Mr. A. and Mr. B?

Answer to Yesterday's Twizzler

Mr. Tuff divided each side of the triangle into thirds and then bent the outer thirds back around the figure greatly without much increase in size of the figure as a whole. He kept repeating the process with results as you see.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

A fascinating pastime with

Albert Edward Wiggam, S. S.
Author of
"THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

The Story So Far:
Judith Goodloe, of an old Mary-land family, marries self-made Reuben Oliver for his money—only to discover he is bankrupt. After a poverty-stricken period during which twins are born, Reuben gets work in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brent—the man Judith loves. Reuben is in the woods when Judith arrives, and Gary provides a cabin for her and takes her dancing. Blind with rage at this discovery Reuben removes the babies to his tent. When Judith and Reuben meet the stored-up resentment of months is uncorked.

Chapter 23
His Own Laws
Reuben walked to the tent's flap, untied and flung it aside. Stooping to pass through it, he tossed her a crooked smile that reminded her absurdly of Judykin's when her feelings were hurt. "You're making another try for Brent, eh? Wish you luck this time!"

The flap fell shut behind him—"Wish you luck this time!" Reuben's words echoed through the tent; echoed around the world. They made a roar like thunder. Judith waiting for the reverberations to die away, stood staring at the still swaying tent flap like one hypnotized.

Reuben had said that—Reuben! But for his coat flung across one of the beds and his pocket knife lying atop a pile of blankets she could have believed the whole episode a dream.

It wasn't a dream. She and Reuben had done the very thing they so carefully avoided—quarreled! Very thoroughly, too, but at that they hadn't said all they wanted to say. Judith knew it by the tumult that seethed and foamed within her. By her tensed fingers, curved like talons—mute evidence that she wanted to scratch and claw!

It didn't seem possible. What had she been thinking of to allow such an impasse? Gran could have avoided this vulgar situation easily. Judith felt a sudden shame.

"Gran was never hectoring like a trapped animal. Gran never had to live in Casper Street or in a tent and scrimp and save and worry and try not to hate."

She had come further than Gran. The going had been hard. It would be harder. Infinitely Judith knew that. What had just happened between her and Reuben was just the lifting of the lid and letting out the first feeble sputters of a restive volcano.

"I won't stay—I won't degrade myself quarreling, fighting. I'll go back to Casper Street in the morning!"

"Then what?" The tent's sloping white walls shrieked it at her. "Then what—what, what?"

No matter what, she was going away from here in the morning. Going away from Reuben. She hated him, crude, rude—

Gary! If she went away now she wouldn't see Gary, wouldn't go riding—

But of course she'd see Gary. Wherever she went now she'd see Gary. The knowledge sent her head up. But Casper Street would be unbearably hot—

She hadn't dreamed Reuben would dare to speak harshly to her. Hadn't dreamed he had the nerve. He'd always tried so hard to please—flushed, stuttered, been embarrassed at her slightest displeasure. Been servile—almost. What had happened to change him so entirely?

She did not blame herself. Something or somebody—What? Who? "Cissy!" The answer zigzagged across her reason.

"No!" Judith protested vehemently aloud. "No!" Her self-respect wouldn't countenance that. Cissy had taken one man from her—it would be absurd to have her take two!

Reuben Acts
The sun was well up before Reuben found a semblance of sanity. The finding had been hard. His rage clung to him like myriads of persistent prickly burrs. All night he had roamed the forest—a jungle beast. Passion, raw, primitive stalked with him. He wanted to strike, to hurt, even as he had been hurt. Reason tried to tell him that he was placing undue importance upon a trifling incident. He would not listen to reason. Judith had done this to him—Judith! A!

After the way he had saved and scrimped to bring her here. His mind veered to Pike. It was all his fault for not preparing the tent, but murdering Pike wouldn't help any now. He must prove to Judith that he was as good a man as Brent—By gum that was what he'd have to do! Not next week, next month, next year, but now—this minute! He'd show her! He'd been a fool to take Judith and her codes so seriously. Hereafter he'd make his own laws. Live by them! Fight for himself and the devil take the hindmost.

The suddenness with which he came to this decision quelled his rage, steadied the dizzying landslide. The time to act was now.

But first he went to the pool for a swim. The cold water stimulated and banished, for the time, his weariness. He went to the community hall for breakfast. He ate a good one. By eight thirty he was rapping on the door of Gary's cabin.

Alf admitted him. "Mawning Mist" Oliver. You'll come after you cah?"

"I came too see Mr. Brent. Am I too early?"

"Not at all," Gary, shrugging into a coat came into view. "Come in Oliver. How are you?"

"Fine." The two men shook hands. Reuben took the chair Gary pushed forward, declined a cigarette. "I'm deeply grateful for your courtesy to Mrs. Oliver. It cost him something to say that."

And Gary knowing it did. "I'd like to do more—for Judith."

"Thanks," Reuben said and added without preamble: "I know I'm making an unheard of request for a woodsman but I'd like to rent that cabin."

"Impossible, but you're welcome to use it until it's wanted."

"I wouldn't consider that," stiffly. "Why not?"

"I don't relish favors," bluntly, "or being put out over night. If I can rent it at my own figure—" recklessly. "It has never been done."

"So I've been told, but with all of them empty and the season so slack—I'd like to make my family comfortable."

"I'd like to see them comfortable," Gary drummed on the arm of the chair.

"Well?"

"There's an unwritten law about cabins—but I can always put up a friend—"

Hot color crept up under Reuben's tan. "Need I remind you that you're my boss?"

"Can't I be your friend too?"

"It's possible, but as I said before, obligations are unpleasant." Reuben stood up. "Nine times out of ten they lead to complications."

War to the Knife
It was Gary's turn to flush. He said: "Sit down, man!" He thought: "It's my one chance to keep Judith here." Suddenly keeping Judith where he could see her every day was the only important thing in life. He said: "How long do you want the shack?"

"Until I get a better job, or," with a slight smile, "until you discharge me."

Gary longed to do just that—right this minute—but that meant Judith would go away too. He said: "If the season picks up—there'll be the devil to pay if we can't house the buyers when they come."

"You just said that isn't likely."

"It isn't, with building at a standstill."

Their eyes met, held. Each knew it was war to the knife.

Reuben thought: "I used to think I was the better man—I still think so."

Gary thought: "I'll show this boulder up to Judith. Let him get into debt, then fire him. Serve him right." He said: "You win, Oliver! The cabin is yours."

"Fine! Now about the rent?"

"Fifty dollars a month." It was an unfair price.

It was $25 more than Reuben

Answer to Question No. 1

1. I've presented so much scientific evidence that people do not look their parts, except that highly intelligent people average somewhat better looking than very stupid people, that I here paraphrase Don Herold, writing in a leading magazine: The best actors I know look like business men, and best writers like brokers or storekeepers. Only the phonies wear long hair and Windsor ties. The best musicians might be mistaken for chemists. The best students ought to look the least "collegiate." I agree, Don.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. As E. L. Thorndike, psychologist, says, you can measure anything that exists, because, if it exists, it exists in some amount. Therefore, you can compare it with some other amount of existence—and that is all that measurement is or ever can be. Some people have more imagination than others; therefore, the amounts of their imaginations can be compared, and one having the most or least or average can be picked out. Psychologists have devised several excellent methods for measuring imagination.

Answer to Question No. 3
3. Both common observation and circulation figures shows that most adults get nearly all their knowledge and education from the daily newspapers. Other sources are magazines, books and lectures, but the number who read or hear these is small compared to newspaper readers. Movies and the radio give a little education but precious little. So, as W. T. Malan writes in School and Society, since the major portion of all adult education is through the newspaper, high school and college students should be taught to read the editorials which represent the considered thought that comes out of the news and the social and political policies of the paper itself.

FOOTBALL ON THE DIAMOND
Milwaukee—(AP)—Football players will share opening day attention with baseball pitchers when the American Association season opens here April 29. Sammy Baugh, who'll be playing shortstop for Columbus, will match his passing skill with Ray Buivid, local boy who starred on the gridiron for Marquette U.

The wild species of potatoes in the Andean region of Chile still reproduce by means of seeds, but only rarely do they develop potatoes.

SAND WEDGE DID IT
New York—(AP)—Herman Barron, New York professional, says the invention of the sand wedge has been the real reason for the epidemic of low golf scores that have come in tournaments during recent years. "Now that they have the sand wedge, golfers don't fear the sand. They seldom lose shots in traps," he says.

Avoid Embarrassment of FALSE TEETH
Dropping or Slipping
Don't be embarrassed again by having your false teeth slip or drop when you eat, talk, laugh or sneeze. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This new, extremely fine powder gives a wonderful sense of comfort and security all day long. No gummy, goey taste or feeling because it's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. Accept no substitute.

TODAY'S BIG JOB—

Modernize Crowded Highways

Citizens of this state have good reason to be enthusiastic motorists. They have an unusually fine highway system. Hundreds of thousands of vehicles keep the roads humming with traffic.

Some of these roads are required to carry more traffic than they can safely accommodate. These urgently need modernizing.

Steady driving at prevailing speeds—with safety built into the roads—is what motorists need. State-wide planning surveys now under way will provide facts on which a rational plan of future highway development can be based.

Widening, straightening, separation of grade crossings and other improvements based on these surveys will provide useful employment for thousands, greater safety for millions, better business and better living for all.

HOW TO BE HAPPY

It's remarkable how frequently what appears at first glance to be an unfamiliar, quaint, or even revolutionary notion turns out on closer inspection to be merely the same old idea everybody had been accepting all along.

Probably no one rule for attaining happiness has bobbed up under a greater variety of fancy labels than: "Don't break your neck for nothing."

This will doubtless be considered a pretty ruthless condensation, by adherents to the more complicated philosophies built on that basic idea. "Don't break your neck," but any condensation is ruthless. It does not follow that it is necessarily in error.

"Moderation in all things" bobbed up several centuries after Confucius said it another way. The Stoics emphasized the wisdom of remaining free from passion. Practitioners of Yogi might be said to have put similar notions to work in the gymnasium.

The only trouble with recommending the easy life to the average man these days is that it's a little like recommending rest and sunshine to a miner with 15 children.

Ramon Navarro, retired moving picture actor, has taken up Yogi, and says he believes he is now on the way to a state of mental and physical tranquility.

The ideas of Yogi, according to Navarro, "seem to boil down to the idea that we must take life as we find it; that we must not get angry, or excited."

Navarro, 33, has a full-sized swimming pool for a bath tub. It stands just outside his all-blue bedroom in his four-story home, just around the corner from his ultra-modern music room, done in cherry red and deep cream.

Now, remember, we must not get angry or excited. Perhaps a more generally acceptable rule for happiness these days would be: "We must take life as we find it, after having made it what we would like to find."

CHARITY ON WHEELS

Do you suppose that during the Altoona, Pa., convention of the Hoboes of America the delegates read the news about the attitude of the country's drivers toward hitchhikers? The "ho's" use the highways nearly as much as the train tracks these days.

More than half the motorists in the United States make it a rule never to pick up a hitch-hiker, according to a nation-wide poll. The rest give a lift only "once in a while."

It seems a shame that the pounders of transcontinental pavements have something less than half a chance of taking the weight off their feet without cutting down on their mileage. The heart goes out to the migratory workers who develop blisters on their toes. (Note: The true hobo, as distinguished from the tramp, occasionally does work.)

But the heart goes out also to those motorists who have paid for their generous impulses en route with their lives or their possessions.

The next time you find yourself about to respond to a crooked thumb at the road's edge, remind yourself that all the highway tragedies are not caused by careless driving.

The hoboes are taking care of themselves. They don't hold conventions just to renew old acquaintances. The hoopla gets the publicity, but the "ho's" in business session get their heads together on the problems of the road . . . whether railroad or automobile road.

DEAR TEACHER

Many Pennsylvania college students studying to become teachers know less than the high school students they are preparing to teach. The average grade of the prospective teachers as a group is below the average of most other college student groups.

The Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, which makes this report, adds that "there is no good reason for believing that the conditions described are confined to Pennsylvania."

The situation is alarming for more than one reason. Consider, for instance, the wild state of affairs that the publication of the news is likely to bring about, once the findings become matters of general knowledge.

Consider an awareness of this situation asserting itself suddenly in the brain of a high school student on the return of a graded examination paper. How many teachers are going to find the papers shot back at them now with such student notes as "This grading shows that you have absorbed nothing of what I have been trying to teach you all semester," and, "You will remain after school and write 100% on the blackboard 100 times."

A fine state.

ON EXHIBITION

Space has been asked at San Francisco's 1939 Golden Gate International Exposition for a concession consisting of a collection of telescopes. The exhibition visitors would be allowed, at a fee, to peer through them at life on Alcatraz Island.

Watching prisoners serving out their time might, of course, be an effective "crime-does-not-pay" lesson. But somehow what the stunt suggests more than anything else is the 18th century practice of visiting jails and asylums as a lark.

If the inmates of Alcatraz are to have added to the conditions of their terms "stretches" of being subjected to treatment as occupants of a public zoo, they at least ought to be given the privileges the animals enjoy. Station telescopes on the island, and let the prisoners stare back once in a while.

WASHINGTON — Just before

Secretary Hull embarked on his present vacation, two or three of his assistants were telling him that he had been working too hard, should get away often.

"Yes," replied Hull, "but sometimes when I do go away mistakes are made around here which cannot be undone."

He recalled that while he was in South America attending the last Pan-American Conference, his subordinates had put across the embargo on arms to Spain. Mr. Hull indicated that he considered this one of the major foreign policy mistakes of the Roosevelt administration.

"Dear Sam"

It is not supposed to be known, but Cordell Hull was largely responsible for the "Dear Sam" letter which the President sent to House Majority Leader Rayburn, saying there would be "no recommitment" as a result of the Reorganization Bill defeat.

Secretary Hull not only had a great deal to do with inspiring this letter, but helped draft it.

Incidentally, Roosevelt is leaning more and more on his Secretary of State for political advice. This is a new departure. Formerly the President consulted Hull only on foreign affairs, but now he finds him an expert counselor regarding the Southern wing of the Democratic Party.

NOTE: With the breach widening between the Garner and Roosevelt factions of Democracy, more people are beginning to talk of Hull as a compromise candidate in 1940. Cordell has liberal ideas, is acceptable to the South. However, his age is a tremendous handicap. He is now 67, will be 69 in 1940.

President's Mother

Sometime ago Roosevelt got a letter from a girl in a Midwest college complaining that college authorities no longer served rolls with hot dogs and wanting the President of the United States to do something about it.

Roosevelt, who often has his picture taken demolishing a frankfurter, does not see most of his mail, but this was shown to him as something amusing. Later his secretary, Miss LeHand, trying to figure out an answer, showed the letter to the president's mother.

Mrs. Roosevelt, Senior, now 83 years old, seemed only mildly interested.

"Hot dog, hot dog?" she mused quizzically. "Let me see, that is something akin to a hamburger, isn't it?"

Tom Mooney

Hiram Johnson, one time Bull Moose, is getting away with a neat piece of sabotage on the Tom Mooney resolution now pending before the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The resolution, calling upon the Governor of California to free the famous prisoner, was approved by a sub-committee, and is now pending before the full Judiciary Committee.

Senator Johnson has written four notes to Chairman Ashurst asking that the matter not be acted upon until he, Johnson, can be heard. Meanwhile, the Senator from California does not show up for a hearing.

When he hears that action is approaching, he merely writes another note, and easy-going Senator Ashurst postpones consideration once again.

Kieberg Relief

Dick Kieberg, millionaire Congressman from Texas, is an ardent advocate of government economy, never tires of orating on the need of budget balancing. He even voted among the handful of Congressmen who recently opposed a desperately needed $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation, but were outnumbered 353 to 23.

But Kieberg's burning yen for economy applies only when it affects others. When his own interest is involved, he is anything but backward about putting his hand into the Treasury till.

Witness: The other day Kieberg suddenly popped up with a proposal to spend $400,000 for the eradication of cattle ticks "where there is an emergency need."

Reasons: The Texas State Legislature refused to appropriate money to fight the tick, and since the emergency exists only in Texas it would get all of the money.

2. Kieberg is an owner of the King Ranch, largest in the world.

is one of the country's biggest cattlemen.

Butter Defender

In the veterans' appropriation act of 1932, Congress wrote a provision banning the use of oleomargarine or any other butter substitute in veterans' hospitals. But several weeks ago, when few members were present in the Senate, Senator George of Georgia slipped through an amendment repealing this restriction.

The House, however, refused to agree and the matter went back to the Senate. This time the Senators from the dairy States were on hand in full force and after a hot wrangle succeeded in routing George and rejecting his amendment.

Leader in this counter-attack was Wisconsin's Senator F. Ryan Duffy—who is under doctor's orders not to eat butter because of overweight and high blood pressure.

Merry-Go-Round

When son John Roosevelt visits the White House he doesn't use an official car but his mother's personal roadster. . . . The weekly news column written by R. B. Stortz, government clerk in the office of Senator Burt Wheeler, and distributed free to Montana papers had a short-lived existence. . . . Heavily loaded with propaganda favoring Wheeler, the column encountered such a bad reaction in the state that Stortz hastily announced its suspension. . . . Until just before the Federal Reserve Board announced a lowering of reserve bank requirements, Elliott Thurston, the Board's press officer, was steadily denying that any such change would be made.

Ogle County Women Held Conference In Mt. Morris Tuesday

(Telegraph Special Service)
The one-day conference of the Women's Clubs of Ogle county held in the Lutheran church in Mt. Morris, April 19th, was well attended and highly successful. C. E. Montgomery of Northern Illinois State Teacher's college spoke in the morning on the subject, "The Garden of Nature", emphasizing the necessity of taking steps to preserve the natural beauty of our state. In the afternoon, at the conclusion of the memorial service conducted for Mrs. Florence Stroh and Mrs. Belle Heald, Mrs. Valfred Johnson of Prophetstown, 13th District Garden Chairman, spoke on the subject, "Flower Arrangement and Suggestions for Flower Shows." Music was furnished by Mt. Morris high school with Mrs. Irene Sweet as director.

Mrs. Hugh Allen of the Pine Creek club, a past president and charter member of Mt. Morris club, was unanimously endorsed by the conference to be presented for district president. Mrs. Carolyn Beebe of Stillman Valley gave a short talk on cancer control and rounded out the day's garden program with the reading of a group of nature poems.

At the conclusion of the session, a number took advantage of the invitation extended by Mrs. Donovan Mills, president of Mt. Morris club, to view the water-color exhibit of Mrs. Pearlman at Kable Inn.

All clubs planning spring flower shows will be interested in the following suggestions given by Mrs. Johnson:

1. In arrangement, remember that one must make a portrait of living plants. There must be unity between the flowers and their container.
2. A box of small stones are useful in arrangement, and twigs may be used to hold flowers in place in tall vases.
3. Four principles to consider in judging are as follows:
 - (a) Pattern—in flowers, container, and setting for them.
 - (b) Perfect balance—in relation to an imaginary center line.
 - (c) Unity—Between container and flowers and between the flowers themselves.
 - (d) Point of interest—A point on the vertical line at 1-3 the height of the arrangement.
4. The darkest colors should be near the center or at the base of the arrangement.
5. In the still life, the background and accessories must harmonize.
6. Use an uneven number of flowers in arrangements.
7. Remember that one must strive for distinction and individuality in each arrangement.
8. There are two types of arrangement: The first: Line—may be either Japanese or Modern. The second, Mass—may be Victorian, Georgian, Colonial, French Empire, or Conservative Modern.

The speakers for the district convention at Galena, Thursday April 28 will be Dr. Herman Pappoon of Chicago and Mrs. Alice M. Weitz of Des Moines, editor of the

BIG BUDDY PROGRAM IS BEGUN BY DIXON POST

Dixon Legionnaires Will Sponsor Movement to Aid Juveniles

A Big Buddy organization has been perfected in Dixon post, No. 12, American Legion, for the purpose of establishing an effective agency in Dixon and vicinity to handle juvenile delinquency cases. H. D. Walder and James Brady have been named to head this important committee by Commander William Wood. The Big Buddy club, an active branch in both the Illinois department and national Legion organizations, is to be given a thorough trial in Dixon and it is anticipated all civic organizations interested in the curtailment of juvenile delinquency among boys and girls will be invited to participate in this program.

The regular meeting of the Legion post last evening was one of the largest of the winter and this was attributed to the fine program which had been outlined, starting with a roast pig supper at 6:30. During the business meeting former speaker John P. Devine of the Illinois legislature gave a very interesting talk, during which he emphasized the need for a radical change in the system of handling juvenile delinquency cases.

Devine Spoke
"Something is wrong with the present system, and it is my opinion that the state will within a short time, expend the large sums now being spent in confining juvenile delinquents in institutions, to prevent them from being sent to these places. The fact that the population of these institutions for juvenile delinquents, both boys and girls, is increasing, is sufficient evidence that the system is wrong. It has interested me to learn of the interest that has been and is being shown by the post of the American Legion in behalf of the youth of Dixon and I know of no other more able or finer body of men representative of our community than those of this post to carry on this work."

"Why should a girl or a boy be sent to an institution to be punished for some offense when they might be placed under the proper observation, environment and supervision, possibly in a private home in Dixon, and that supervisor be paid by the state for rendering such a service to the boy or girl, instead of sending him or her away to some state institution to be confined at the expense of the tax payer?"

"As an illustration that the present system is not successful, you will recall that some few years ago a brutal murder was committed at the state hospital north of this city. This was just one instance where 'pull' had sent into this institution an individual who should have been placed in a penal ward. This is but one example where 'pull' is used in the commitment of individuals to our institutions."

Hits Idleness
Idleness in the penal institutions, former speaker Devine declared, has caused further collapse of the handling of criminals. The continued claims of organized labor against prison manufacture, he stated, left the prisoners with nothing to occupy their time. Employment in the penal institutions, he emphasized, was essential in carrying out the system of treatment of criminals. He urged the American Legion organization in its local post, the state department and national body to adopt a program directed to combat juvenile delinquency throughout the United States.

Immediate action was taken by the post to perfect the Big Buddy program in Dixon. More than a hundred Legionnaires were in attendance at the interesting meeting.

Pigmy Northern Lights Display Is Demonstrated

Urbana, Ill., April 21—(AP)—A miniature of the aurora borealis, bugaboo to communication systems when it acts up, was demonstrated at the student electrical show which opened today for three days at the University of Illinois.

The model, built by Milton Vore, graduate student from Glencoe, Ill., was said to be the second shown in this country. Another was made some years ago by Dr. C. T. Knipp, Illinois professor now retired.

Within a glass chamber, two devices known as "electron guns" shoot toward a suspended magnet representing the earth with its magnetic poles and attraction, resulting in a miniature reproduction of the aurora borealis.

Another exhibit was one of science's newest tools, a Lawrence cyclotron or whirling type of atom smasher.

STRESS INDIVIDUAL SPORTS
Atlantic City—(AP)—Colleges were advised to de-emphasize team sports and concentrate on individual sports such as golf, tennis and swimming, in talks before the American Association for Health and Physical Education convention.

It is estimated that at the present demand, America's coal supply will last about 2000 years.

The sequoia tree is almost indestructible. The armor of thick bark acts as an asbestos protection against fire, and as insulation against frost and freezing. The wood seems to be almost immune against rot, and a thick healing sap quickly heals up any scar.

The first recorded shoemaker in the American colonies was Thomas Beard, who came from London in 1629 and started making shoes in Massachusetts.

TRAIN PLUNGES OFF VIADUCT, ONE KILLED, 4 HURT

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—One man was killed and four others injured last night when four cars of a Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific freight train plunged off a 20-foot viaduct onto a busy highway near suburban Oak Forest.

Railroad officials said a broken axle caused the wreck. The dead man was identified from cards in his pocket as Henry Walter Franck, 55, a former railroad camp cook at Ransom, Kan. The injured were Sidney Crannell, 30, address unknown; Chas. Sobush, 36, Chicago; Frank Dundon, 33, of Binghamton, N. Y., and Kenneth Spencer, 34, of Kansas City, Mo.

Crannell was the most seriously injured, suffering a skull fracture and crushed chest.

Several motorists narrowly escaped being crushed by the falling cars, two of which were loaded with grain and another with sand. A fourth, in which the men were riding, was empty.

State and highway police used axes and saws to extricate the men pinned in the wreckage.

Five of the freight cars turned over and were strewn along the right of way. Three others were derailed, but remained upright.

Latterly, historians favor Francis Hopkinson as the designer of the first Stars and Stripes. Congress commissioned Hopkinson to make such a design.

Investigators Of Firm Uncover Illegal Use of Mail

Peoria, Ill., April 21—(AP)—U. S. District Attorney Robert J. Clendenin said today that investigators checking the records of N. L. Rogers & Co., defunct Peoria investment firm, had found mail fraud violations.

"Though we have but scratched the surface in our investigation of company records," he said, "we have found several instances of use of the mails to defraud."

Clendenin is working in co-operation with three investigators of the federal securities and exchange commission and State's Attorney John E. Dougherty.

The firm, which also operates at Danville, filed a plea of voluntary bankruptcy last week after the Illinois state securities department asked the company to show cause why its registration should not be cancelled. Liabilities of the company were estimated by Roscoe Herget, receiver, at more than $350,000.

Clendenin said that if the investigation is completed by May 9, the case will be taken before the United States grand jury which convenes in Peoria on that date.

He had reached the age of 66 years, 6 months, and 9 days. Mr. Johnson had suffered from chronic arthritis for five years, his fatal illness beginning, however, the past week.

MOTORISTS HIT HARD BY FUEL TAX IN STATE

Oil Dealers of Community Learn of Taxes at Meeting Here

A meeting of oil distributors and their employees was held at the Hotel Nachusa here Tuesday eve, attended by approximately 40 oil men of this community. The meeting was held under the direction of the Illinois petroleum industries committee with headquarters at Springfield, and was one of a series of such meetings being held throughout the state this month. G. A. Primm, secretary of the organization and Fred Blumenkamp, assistant secretary, conducted the meeting.

It was pointed out that automotive taxes imposed upon the motor vehicle owners nationwide reached an all-time high of $1,500,000,000 in 1937 representing approximately one eighth of all taxes collected by federal, state and local governments. That amount of money is about $200,000,000 more than the cost of all federal, state and local government in the United States in the year 1900, which was but $1,300,000,000.

Of this $1,500,000,000, gasoline taxes accounted for $975,000,000, an increase of almost 240 per cent in 10 years. Gasoline taxes nationwide in 1927 amounted to $258,000,000 imposed upon 20,000,000 motor vehicle owners having an average annual consumption of 450 gallons per vehicle. This compared with 30,000,000 motor vehicles in use in 1937 with a yearly consumption of 650 gallons per vehicle, an increase of approximately 50 per cent, which alone accounted for a quarter-billion dollars, is attributed to increase in gasoline tax rates by the states and the unjust 1 cent federal gasoline tax, the latter alone costing Illinois motorists $12,500,000 in 1937. Illinois with its 3 cents per gallon gasoline tax, took $38,908,750 out of the pockets of motor vehicle owners of this state, not to mention an additional $20,861,000 in registration license fees.

It was further pointed out that this heavy burden of gasoline taxes falls heaviest on those least able to pay, since more than half of the motorists in Illinois and other states have incomes ranging from $20 to $30 per week, or less. More than one-third of the families owning motor cars have incomes of less than $20 per week. If the total national income in 1937 of millionaires, factory workers, and all others had been divided, it would have averaged only $41 per week, but it must be borne in mind, stated Mr. Blumenkamp, that less than 5 per cent of the car owners in the United States have incomes of $100 per week; hence, the greatest burden of gasoline taxes fall upon families having modest incomes.

In the state of Illinois, the average automotive tax is $43, of which $27 represents gasoline taxes requiring the "typical Illinois motorist" with a small income to work one to one and a half weeks per year to pay only his gasoline taxes. While gasoline taxes have constantly been on the increase, the price of gasoline, even though the quality has been much improved, has been reduced from approximately 30 cents in 1920 to around 15 cents in 1937, and bearing out these facts the petroleum industry has introduced the slogan "Gasoline is Cheap—Only the Tax is High!"

Among those in attendance were: R. W. Mathews, C. C. Burgard, R. W. Crawford, L. C. Good, C. E. Pulew, Standard Oil Co., Dixon; Wayne Williams, Mid-Continental Petroleum corporation, Dixon; Lauren Dix, Ohio Oil Co., Deer Grove; Arthur Gibson, Gibson Bros. WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TEST OF LOYALTY

Text: Mark 9:2-10

By Wm. E. Gilroy, D. D.

The story of the transfiguration of Jesus is very remarkable, even in a New Testament that tells us remarkable things.

We have the portrayal of Jesus as He preached to the multitudes and as they thronged upon Him, not only to hear His words but also to see His wondrous works. We have the intimate account of Jesus with the inner circle of disciples, and we have the long discourse or series of talks, that we call Sermon on the Mount, which came out of this communion with Jesus as He met with His inner circle of disciples.

But here, even from the inner circle of twelve, we have Jesus taking three of the disciples—Peter, James and John—and bringing them up onto a high mountain, where they had an experience that must have strengthened their faith and in some ways changed their whole lives. Here on the mountain, Jesus became transformed as they observed Him, His garments glistening with a whiteness such as no linen on earth could attain. And along with Jesus there appeared two, whom the disciples identified as Elijah and Moses, who talked with Jesus.

Peter, always the ready spokesman, was so overwhelmed by the vision that in his eagerness, he exclaimed, "Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elijah." We are told that he knew not what he said—which has been true of more than one who has had some extreme emotional religious experience. Moreover, the disciples were afraid; there was something appalling and overwhelming to their human spirits in this manifestation. But there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, "This is my beloved Son; hear ye Him."

It was then that the disciples found themselves with Jesus alone. As they came down the our vision again. They came down from the mountain, reminded by the Master that they should not even talk about the wonderful thing they had seen. They came back to the earth and to their daily tasks with the vision in a sense removed. These tasks were just as real, their duties and obligations were no less urgent, and yet—what it meant to have above this daily life the sense of this triumphant experience!

We should not value such extremely emotional experiences too highly, but neither should we regard them too lightly. We should make sure that from all the experiences on the mountain top, we get back into the realities of daily Christian living. That is the real test of the Master's presence and of our loyalty to Him.

Residents of Dementown last night presented a long petition to the city council asking for a hose cart and two firemen to be stationed in that section.

Fire which probably started from a cigar or cigarette threatened the destruction of the Galena avenue bridge today, but fortunately it was extinguished with a pail of water.
